Open Water Checkout Weekends Summer 2015

Let's go diving! To complete your Open Water Diver Certification you will need to complete at least 4 Open Water Training Dives. During these dives you will apply all the knowledge and skills from your Academic and Confined water training in an open water environment. You can make the dives locally with our instructors at Beaver Lake (May-Nov) or join us on one of our Staff directed Dive Trips to many different exotic diving destinations. Most new divers choose to go to Beaver Lake before their Trip to the Caribbean. This allows them to complete certification and be ready for FUN rather than having to do the skills and training while on vacation. Because Adventure Sports only offers Open Water Checkout Dives May-Nov. at Beaver Lake, a referral to your diving location can also be arranged.

Your weekend getaway to Beaver Lake (the most beautiful and pristine lake in the Midwest), includes two days of Boat Diving (most KC based dive operations do shore diving), Instructor and Certification fees. Lodging is also included (unlike the competition) at the Adventure Sports lake house at no additional charge. Our dive boat is a 42 ft. pontoon with plenty of room for gear assembly, tank holders and dive platforms for the easiest water entry and exit possible. The lake-house is on the water and sleeps 12 in beds. The lake-house also has a barbecue grill, covered deck and full kitchen for all of your meals. Although it is not luxury accommodations, our lake house is comfortably suited for most divers.
